Atreyu, Slow Burn

It begins with a dark glowing ember something black burning its way out of me Searing the flesh pain is the only thing I feel scars all I see

Oh no the fires burning my insides again what can I do to silence my desire tonight? Face consumer reason leaving only ashes left you will catch me regretting my decision I can't keep telling myself what I want to hear I can't just close my eyes

(Chorus)
I know that it's killing me
and it's poisoning the best of me what I see, I don't want to believe So let me tell you more, tell you more about the lies I lead

That is how I chose to douse the flames in gasoline Broken teeth replace the blackout memories in my head Wreckage from the past haunts me, shakes me to the bone (to the bone) I know it's over but I can't go home tonight

And after this I feel as empty as the night before feel the pain and yet I'm still begging for more Masochistic, nihilistic, urging backward thought My life's a mess and I can't find a way to fix it

I can't keep telling myself what I want to hear I can't just close my eyes (my eyes, my eyes, my fucking eyes)

(Chorus)
I know that it's killing me
and it's poisoning the best of me
what I see, I don't want to believe
So let me tell you more, tell you more
about the lies I lead

Calling, calling out The darkest reaches of my soul are riddled with self-doubt Crawling, crawling out my will to fight will more than suffice when others would lay down

It's only as dark as you make it

(Chorus)
I know that it's killing me
and it's poisoning the best of me
what I see, I don't want to believe
So let me tell you more, tell you more
about the lies I lead
