

Atrocity, The Sunken Paradise

Heavy sea red burning water lava is floating
Moke is blowing
Before it was a precious island
Now not even ruins left

Drowned to the ground of the ocean never found again

Just it one night and one day our island swept away
We are sailing from Atlantis sunken paradise
Just in one night and one day
Our dreams were taken away
We are sailing from Atlantis
A soon forgotten paradise

Our ships are heading towards a new land
Hot winds are playing with our sails
We lost our homes our place of birth we are lost
Souls searching for a novel world

Drowned to the ground of the ocean never found again

Just it one night and one day our island swept away
We are sailing from Atlantis sunken paradise
Just in one night and one day
Our dreams were taken away
We are sailing from Atlantis
A soon forgotten paradise

We will face storm and wild
We provoked the gods everything is lost
We move heaven and earth
A new time will come

One night and one day
In one night and one day

Just it one night and one day our island swept away
We are sailing from Atlantis sunken paradise
Just in one night and one day
Our dreams were taken away
We are sailing from Atlantis
A soon forgotten paradise
