

Audiofeels, You Came Close

I had my plans
I had ambitions
I wanted to rule my big world
I played with dreams
I made my visions
I thought I had everything under control

And suddenly
Unexpectedly
I crushed against my own pride
You found me crawling in the ashes of my illusions
You found me digging in the dust of my fake reality

I was the one
With expectations
Higher than those you had for me
I was the one
With ready answers
To all the questions anyone could ask

And suddenly
Unexpectedly
I realised I wasn't the keeper of the keys
You found me crawling in the ashes of my illusions
You found me digging in the dust of my fake reality

You came close
And I freaked out
You touched my hand
And I ran away
I didn't know
You'd come to save me
I didn't want to
Let go
You came close...

Now here I am
Embracing the peace
Tasting this state of knowing no more
Now here I stand
With you by my side
That's really enough to feel at home

And constantly
Inexhaustibly
I'm losing myself in you
To find the sense in everything that happens
To find the beauty of my new world full of you

You came close
And I freaked out
You touched my hand
And I ran away
I didn't know
You'd come to save me
I didn't want to
Let go

I live in you
You live in me
That's how it should be
From the start
I live in you
You live in me

That's how it should be

You came close
And I freaked out
You touched my hand
And I ran away
I didn't know
You'd come to save me
I didn't want to
Let go
