August Burns Red, Indonesia

This plane is going down in flames and this time

There's no black box to capture your last words

A situation we can't make any sense of

Sacrifice costs all of us everything

This is the time to turn down our heads and turn up our hearts

There's no scale to balance this out

Some say may those who curse days, curse this day

There's no scale to balance this out

How does a man wrap his mind around eternity

When he can't even explain his own composition?

Don't you see it's bigger than you?

He sleeps in the mountains of Indonesia

And the white on his flag brings colors to shame, colors to shame

He sleeps in the mountains of Indonesia

And the white on his flag brings colors to shame, colors to shame

The earth will swallow the water

The clouds refill the oceans

The earth will swallow the water and spit out

The clouds will refill, refill the oceans

The earth will swallow the water and spit out

The clouds will refill, refill the oceans

Humble and broken

This plane crashed down in flames

With a man who lived, who died to better this world

David, rest in peace

He sleeps in the mountains of Indonesia

And the white on his flag brings colors to shame, colors to shame

He sleeps in the mountains of Indonesia

And the white on his flag brings colors to shame, colors to shame
