

Aurora Borealis, Crowned With Embalmment

Once great King of Buzzard and cobra who once ruled over the land your existence has but ceased and time is no longer a demand Ritual Journey has begun and now no time is left Sky is Dark Pyramid points north
Now the eternal quest

Jackal God of Embalming, Anubis takes his toll one by one it is all removed, heart, liver and soul Mind is next by breaking bones between cavity and skull with a hook the brain comes out by careful and few pulls

Painted eyes of stone are placed in the head
For this of you life is what you were bed

Incision in the gut, organs are withdrawn corpse is stuffed and wrapped for lifetimes to come

Inovaters of the ancient kind Perplexities that can never be placed in line

Ahhh...

Into the world of shadows the soul soon shall find Whether the heart is heavy or whether it lies The life will be destroyed if htis is so and the judgment shall be passed to the underworld below

Oooh devour the light, oooh devour the cries
oooh devour the light, oooh devour the cries
