

Autopilot Off, The Blind Truth

I was drunk, sober, tarnished, and pure
All I ever wanted was a little bit more
I had eyes that were heavy and sickly and sore
Blacked out windows and a bolt on the door.

I was shell-shocked shaking from the world outside
I had voices come and wake me in the dead of the night.
At the end of the tunnel, they say there's a light
I hope there's more to living than just being alive.

CHORUS:

And the blind truth
It'll find you
In the end its all thats waiting
Yeah the blind truth

It'll find you
In the end its all thats waiting for you.

I was judge, jury, and witness in one
Put myself on trial for the things I had done
Forced to stare and look at now what I had become Cold and unforgiving like the face of a gun

When underneath my skin
I felt my blood so warm
Waking up my senses like the day I was born
I was the sickness
I was the cure
I never thought I'd ever feel so safe and secure
