

Autumn, Twisted And Turned

A twist, a turn, been lost more than once too many already A hit and a run, kicked in too late to be kicked to the curb again regardless of the consequences You have had me
seen me falter, felt me shiver
You have had me
right where you wanted me You have twisted and turned my life upside down (and right side up!), right when all I remained was a footprint in melting snow
You have seen me slowly disappearing and yet, here I still remain for all to see yet I've still not had it Doesnt it make you wonder how exactly youve been playing me?
You have had me
seen me falter, felt me shiver
You think you have had me
right where you wanted me
It turns out
You have had me
seen me falter, felt me shiver
You have had me
right where I wanted me
