

Avantasia, Moonglow ft. Candice Night

Such a beautiful light to undo what I thought I believed in Wild and cold is the wind that'll blow my conviction away
Hear the call of the bright moon above

Outside of your window
Would you follow me into a world
Where reason doesn't pertain?

Everything I've come to know is gonna fall to pieces
Everything you've come to dream is gonna turn out real

A lunar light into your room
Let it carry you into the night
Moonglow
Let it take you away
The road aflame
Fooling gravity
You follow the light
Moonglow, moonglow
To the other side

All you're told to comprehend
And put in place and understand is gone
In this enchanting magic light

Follow me into the night to a place by the willow
Leave all your schemes
And your patterns of thinking behind
And I dream how I rise
As I look down on the shelf on a pillow
And I know I won't try to explain
What I've seen in this night

Everything you've come to know is gonna fall to pieces
Everything I've come to dream is gonna turn out real

A lunar light
A lunar light into your room
Let it carry you into the night
Moonglow
Let it take you away
The road aflame
Fooling gravity
You follow the light
Moonglow, moonglow
To the other side
All you're told to comprehend
And put in place and understand is gone

Oh
Will you take me over, take me over?
World in the moonglow
Make me feel this is real
A face in the moonglow

A lunar light into your room
Let it carry you into the night
Moonglow
Let it take you away
The road aflame
Fooling gravity
You follow the light
Moonglow, moonglow
To the other side

All you're told to comprehend
And put in place and understand is gone
