

Avantasia, The Looking Glass

(Gabriel:)

Drawn by the sound of that wild raving pound
No one has told me
I gotta know all about hell and below
They never told me

(Tree of Knowledge:)

The quest for nexus.
In your life and for all that's beyond...

(Gabriel:)

When I gaze at the man who is gazing at me
When I stare into the looking glass
When I ask what he sees
Then I'm asking for more and the more
That I wanna know
I know what I'll never know

(Tree of Knowledge:)

From far away, from the state of decay
You've come to wisdom
Many've been led, into madness instead
Toll of my kingdom
The quest for nexus has brought
Many man of genius to insanity

(Gabriel:)

When I gaze at the man who is gazing at me
When I stare into the looking glass when I ask what he sees

(Tree of Knowledge:)

Then you're asking for more, and the more that you wanna know
You know what you'll never know

(Solo: Henjo Richter)

(Tree of Knowledge:)

As long as you long for the whole
You can't get a part of at all.
How proud would the buildings of Rome
Look without all single stones

(Gabriel:)

When I gaze at the man who is gazing at me...
When I stare into the looking glass
When I ask what he sees.
Then I'm asking for more and the more
That I wanna know,
I know what I'll never know...
