

Avantasia, The Toy Master

(vocals by Alice Cooper and Tobias Sammet)

(Alice Cooper:)

Don't you be afraid,
Come and step inside and take a look around
I'm your holy grail in your candy store
To save you from the profound
They used to dream in only black and white
Can't you hear them scream drowning in the tide

Out in the cold, I see water frozen in their eyes
What a sorry sight
I am willing to believe they would pay for a smile

I'm the master of toys
and all you girls and boys are welcome to my wonderland
I'm the angel of joy
And I'm here to paint the void
Welcome to my world
To my dream factory

Say hello to the gentleman with the paint
The deeper you're in the blue
The sweeter the sound of your plaint
If only I had a heart it would break oh sure
And I'd wonder how much more they can take

Out in the cold, I see water frozen in their eyes
What a sorry sight
I am willing to believe they would pay for a smile

(Alice Cooper:)

I'm the master of toys
and all you girls and boys
are welcome to my wonderland
I'm the angel of joy
And I'm here to paint the void
Welcome to my world
I've dealing in pain and a little Novocaine
Welcome to my world, to my toy factory

No more struggle of the classes
No more struggle of the masses
On their knees - conformity

They are ready for a hero
They are flying at zero
It's their turn to crash and burn

(Alice Cooper:)

No more struggle of the classes
No more struggle of the masses
On their knees - conformity

They are ready for a hero
They are flying at zero
It's their turn to crash and burn

(Chorus)

I'm the master of toys

are welcome to my wonderland
I'm the angel of joy
And I'm here to paint the void
Welcome to my world
I come to bring you pain
And a little Novocaine
Welcome to my world..
