Axxis, Ships Are Sailing

The wall has fallen down tonight I can't believe this dream Tears of joy - everywhere We celebrate this day I hope we'll always be free I pray on my knees Paper ships sailing Just as a sign To show the world now There's no borderline Ships are sailing 'cross the water All the white lights shining bright Ships are sailing 'cross the water Burning candles in the night Dance, dance and we dance around On both banks of the stream We are all together now Now, now, now Now the wall is broken Will all dreams come true? We feel the freedom We know what we have to do Ships are sailing 'cross the water All the white lights shining bright Ships are sailing 'cross the water Burning candles in the night Our lights expel the darkness Sailing into the night Together we are fearless Our eyes are open wide Ships are sailing 'cross the water All the white lights shining bright Ships are sailing 'cross the water Burning candles in the night
