

Aztek Trip, Average Day

Lying awake sleeping all day
I've got so much to do with my life
Come on everybody come out and play
Come on everybody come around again
I'd like to see your face for another time
Watch where you're waking
Somebody's sandcastle fell down
Let's hold our breath Get dizzy fall down
Let's hide away

It's just an average day, another ordinary day
It's just an average day get dizzy fall down

Mid days haze and I'm still not awake
I got everything going but my bills are still late
Funnier than hell and I think it's a blast
Life's like a laugh when you got no money
Never lose out on life itself
It always seems to find a way to stick around
Life's often fragile
Somebody's sandcastle fell down
Let's hold our breath Get dizzy fall down
Let's hide away

Well I never know But I keep on asking I can never tell
An average day, it may seem so plain
Why don't you tear out me

It's just an average day, another ordinary day
It's just an average day, it's just an average
It's just an average day, another ordinary day
It's just an average, average day it seems so plain

Average day it seems so plain
