

B.B. King, Slowly Losing My Mind

I've lost the right to say that I love you, I've lost the right to say that you are fine Yes, I've lost the right to say that I love you baby, and I've lost the right to say that you are fine I've lost the right to say that I need you like I do now baby and I'm slowly losing my mind

Oh, you once told me how much you love me, and I said God love us all Oh, you told me once how much you love me baby
and I said God love us all Yes, I was young and just a fool then baby, and couldn't hear the lovers call

Oh, now I'm all alone and here waiting baby,
I have no one to call my own
Yes, I'm all alone and I'm here waiting baby,
I have no one to call my own
Yes, you are just a fool each lonely heartbeat says, now I wonder why was I born
