B.B. King, Try A Little Tenderness

I may get weary Women do get weary Wearing the same shabby dress But to one who's weary Try a little tenderness

She may be waiting
Just anticipating
All of the things
She may never possess
But while she's waiting
Try a little tenderness

I may be sentimental But I've had my griefs And my cares And just a good word Soft and gentle Makes it, makes it So much easier to bear

She might forget it
Oh but don't let her forget it
Love's got a whole
A whole happiness
'Cause it's so easy
Try a little tenderness

Oh it's so very easy It's so very easy Try a little Try a little Try a little Try a little Try a little

Try a little, try a little
Won't you
'Cause it's so very easy
So very easy
Won't you try
Yes, I'll try
Try a little tender Tender - Ness
I'll try a little tenderness
Oh
