

Baby Bird, Dead Bird Sings

Take me in your arms again
Wash me in your eyes
Tie me to the house again
Love me 'till love dies

Blame me for everything
Not just the bad times
Whispering sweet nothings in your ear
Just like a dead bird sings

Look into my face again
Between us there's a mile
I can see a hole in the sky
As wide as your smile
As wide as your smile

It's not that you've gone away
It's that I've never met you
But I wish you'd come back to me
Just like the night turns blue
Just like the night turns blue

Love me 'till love dies
