

Babybird, All Men Are Evil

If all men are evil
And all the girls are good
There are bad men in the dead trees
And a girl in the wood
All the little children when you catch him
Open up his soul
Drop a going back to the womb pill
And cover up the hole

And when the sun comes up and i can't get a tan
Oh yeah i'm happy now
And when the sun comes up and i can't get a tan
Oh yeah i'm happy now

Take out the big shovel
And wade it through the earth
This man's so old with evil
He should have been put down at birth
But the people can't decide
Whether to laugh or cry
I say hang him on the tv, don't give a blind fuck
This man deserves to die

And when the sun comes up and i can't get a tan
Oh yeah i'm happy now
And when the sun comes up and i can't get a tan
Oh yeah i'm happy now

If all men are evil
Then all girls are good
There's bad language in the trees
Something dirty in the wood
All the little children when you catch him
Open up his soul
Drop a going back to the womb pill
And cover up the hole

And when the sun comes up and i can't get a tan
Oh yeah i'm happy now
And when the sun comes up and i can't get a tan
Oh yeah i'm happy now
