Backseat Goodbye, Slow Songs On Saturday

slow songs on saturday are just better when we've got each other sunsets, they don't matter when our eyes, they cross, in this weather tonight i'm gonna be alive for one last time forget your paper and pen 'cause this is what dreams are made of slow songs on saturday are good even when the days are leaving you can bet i'll be stealing that look in your eyes 'cause you don't need it as much as me, i'm a sad excuse for a soul 'cause when we say goodbye i never want you to go it's not like i'm asking for forever just for now, 'til whenever slow songs on saturday are what i need when it's rained all week 'cause the clouds came down and kept me in my door stayed shut, the windows wouldn't bend so i painted you some sunsets on my walls you should really come see them they're just for you kid yeah i painted you sunsets on a white wall canvas yeah, they're just for you kid this one's for you
