

Backstreet Boys, Safest Place To Hide

Backstreet Boys

Never Gone

Safest Place To Hide

It seems like yesterday when I said I do
And after all this time my heart still burns for you
If you don't know by now that you're my only one
Take a look inside me and watch my heart strings come undone

I know I promised you forever
Is there no stronger word I can use
To reassure you in the storm
That's raging outside
You're my safest place to hide

Can you see me
Here I am (Here I am)
I need you like I needed you then
When I feel like giving up
I climb inside your heart and still find
You're my safest place to hide

You see colors no one else can see
And every breath you hear a symphony
You understand me like nobody can
I feel my soul unfolding
Like a flower blooming
When this whole world gets too crazy
And there's nowhere left to run
I know you give me sanctuary
You're the only truth I know
You're the road back home

Can you see me
Here I am (Here I am)
Standing here where I've always been
And when words are not enough
I climb inside your heart and still find
You're my safest place to hide
My safest place to hide

I know I promised you forever
There's no stronger word I can use
To reassure you when the storm
Is raging outside
You're my safest place to hide

Can you see me
Here I am (Here I am)
Standing here where I've always been
When I feel like giving up
I climb inside your heart and still find
Yeah, yeah
You're my safest place to hide
Oh yeah
You're my safest place to hide
