

Backstreet Boys, Weird World

Hey hey hey

The sun is over the city but it's an orange day

There is reason for lookin' up but I'm feelin' down

You see, I've got to catch a plane but won't buy a ticket

'Cause it's hard to just stop when you're spinnin' around

It's a weird world, don't you know it?

It's a weird world and it won't slow down

It's a weird world, no matter how you roll it

Hey hey hey, sweet baby

There's a way

Just stand up and fight it

Hey hey hey

Never give up and don't let it wear out now

Your love

It's a weird world, yeah

Sent a message to a G.I. in the desert

Said thank you man for bringin' another dawn

Back here it's her and me and we're havin' our first baby

He's out there takin' 'em on

It's a weird world and I know you know it

It's a weird world and it won't slow down

It's a weird world, no matter how you roll it

Hey hey hey, sweet baby

There's a way

Just stand up and fight it

Hey hey hey

Never give up and don't let it wear out now

Your love

I'm closin' my eyes but I'm startin' to see

While he's lookin' at you, she's lookin' at me

The only thing it does

Is just keep me away from you

Sure, part of this place would cheer if I die

But don't let them take away your beautiful smile

Take away your beautiful smile

Take away your beautiful smile

Hey hey hey, sweet baby

There's a way

Just stand up and fight it

Hey hey hey, sweet baby

There's a way for you to decide it

Hey hey hey

Never give up and don't let it wear out now

Your love

Hey hey hey

(It's a weird world, don't you know it?)

Hey hey hey

(It's a weird world, don't you know it?)

Hey hey hey

(Oh, it's a weird world, don't you know it?)

Hey hey hey
