

Bad Astronaut, Staler 2000

I'm only waving to get out of the way I know that the check in avoids the pain and I'm only lying to the one's that suggest it If ever I was missed, you know that I caved

All I know is you came too quickly and left the same I couldn't believe it when you stayed
I just knew you were leaving soon

Enough you're so anxious praying on the breaking news and now the sun goes down to soon I'm only staring at your eyes dear to think of a reason why mine cry

I wanna get you back so I can give you away Head filled with ego heart filled with fame

hanging on the breaking noose
and now the sun goes down to soon
and I wonder who you're hanging tonight
