

Bad News For The Devil, Prayer

i'm hiding myself, there in the darkest corner of my mind_ and i fell depressed without you, here by my side.
i feel depressed, when i'm alone in the dark, but i know_ that you are there for me, everytime when i call your name.

this is just another prayer between my saviour and me.
this is just another prayer and i bow down on my knee.
'cause i need you, oh my jesus.
i need you, please come to me.
yes, i need you, oh my lord, in my life.

and again, i'm hiding myself.
and again, i'm lost in the dark.
and again, i don't know where to go.
and again, i am alone.
but i know that you are there for me.

this is just another prayer between my saviour and me.
this is just another prayer and i bow down on my knee.

when i'am alone in my room and nobody else is around me.
i can feel your breath and your arms,
and a peace dwells up inside of me.
i'm glad, you are here and thankful for all you've done_ and i know that you're still there for me everytime when i call your name.

this is just another prayer between my saviour and me.
this is just another prayer and i bow down on my knee.
