

Bad Religion, What Can You Do?

So you waste another day gettin' older and gray in the head
And you're hearin' lots of stories 'bout the happy times you have ahead
There are other folks in power so you kick back and get farther behind
And although the world rotates itself, the only thing you twist is your mind
You see, the world's fallin' apart at the rifts
And surprisingly, the leaders can't make any sense of it
You mean nothin' to the world, we're all someone else's fool
But oh, what can you do?
Yeah you waste your time with losers if you get stuck
In a Rock 'n' Roll band
Do you find it more rewarding to compete with morons throughout this land?
They seem to be in power so I'll kick back and get farther behind
And I watch them as they fuck up every good thing on this earth
With their minds
You see, the world's fallin' apart at the rifts
And surprisingly, the leaders can't make any sense of it
You mean nothin' to the world, we're all someone else's fool
But oh, what can you do? Go
Yeah you waste another day gettin' older and gray in the head
And we're hearin' lots of stories 'bout the happy times we have ahead
The morons are in power so we kick back and get farther behind
And we watch them as they fuck up every good thing on this earth
With their minds
See, the world's fallin' apart at the rifts
And surprisingly, the leaders can't make any sense of it
We mean nothin' to the world, we're all someone else's fool
But oh, what can you do?
I said, oh, what can you do?
