

Badfinger, You Ask Yourself Why

The more you see of your love
The more you must try
Try to throw away those reasons to cry
It's no surprise you wonder why
You ever believed it
But still you have a reason why
You wanna conceive it
There's no real reason to deny
All that you need's inside
I say there's no reason to cry

All all that you see that is love
You ask yourself why
They know why you feel the pain go by
You don't ask why you read the news
And you better believe it
As clouds go by you see anew
And you wanna perceive it
There's no real reason to deny
All that you see pass by
Is in order to see you and I

All that you see pass by
Is in order to see you and I
