Unfortunate Result Of Spare Time

Me, Myself, And I (1st Single)

i'm having a conversation with some friends i know somebody i agree with no matter where i go somebody i never have to wait for or try to read their minds somebody i never have to say, -"are you having a good time?"; here's to the perfect evening with me, myself, and i we'll go pick out a movie and we'll all choose the same one we'll share the same opinions after the feature's done then we'll discuss our future plans and we'll all just ride the fence and we'll all agree that we're the only ones left here with any common sense here's to stayin' inside with me, myself, and i i get so tired of all this `me or you or me or you'
i got better ways to spend my time with me, myself, and i so i asked myself -"what do you think?"; and he said "don't ask me"; he'll just take both sides of any point eventually then we'll have to sit here and try to compromise 'til we're all too goddamn tired for anyone to decide here's to gettin' nowhere with me, myself, and i
i got better ways to spend my time with me, myself, and i
hey big mama, ain't you got no soul left in those tired bones? hey big daddy, who you talkin' to on that bedroom telephone?
hey little mama, i could use some help tryin' to tear off this disguise and i ain't that hard to find with me, myself, and i
