Balligomingo, Falling

Open my eyes Open my eyes and see you lying beside me Touch your lips Touch your lips to mine you're touching me inside

Lightning flashes, river swells And I'm crashing to the ground Feels like I'm walking through the sand Water seeping through my veins

I feel just like a child When I'm in your arms

Falling fast and deep Falling into heat Falling to my knees Falling free

Open my heart Open my heart and mind Let you embrace me Dawn is waking A new day rising Sunlight touching my skin

And I want to be strong
Cause I want you in my life
Feels like I'm floating through open air
You're flames seeping through me

Falling fast and deep Falling into heat Falling to my knees Falling free
