

Banks Tony, I Wanna Change The Score

Banks Tony

Still

I Wanna Change The Score

I wanna be in another place

Some other body and someone else's face

Don't wanna be in here

I need a space I can disappear

I wanna play me a different part

Another feeling in someone else's heart

Don't wanna cry out loud

Don't wanna show you I'm too damn proud

You can change the words you say

Stop the things you do

Throw away your yesterdays

You'll still be stuck with you

But don't be sad

Get a hold upon yourself before you get too far

No matter what you have to learn to live with who you are

I wanna live in a different time

Another reason in someone else's mind

I wanna change the score

I don't wanna be me no more

I wanna play in a different game

Another player in someone else's name

Don't wanna be the fool

Don't wanna show you I can lose my cool

You can stop the world you're on

Change the song you sing

Choose defection, wrong direction

That won't change a thing

But that's so good

No time to wish your life away, follow your star

Be glad of what you have my friend, be glad of who you are.

I wanna be a different man

I wanna set me free if I can.
