

Barbra Streisand, Doorbell Could Speak

Out in Longwood Gardens
Perfume of flowers I missed
But I missed to see
Bee in her bonnet kissed

A flock of blue birds
Flew out cooing merrily
If you call it love
I love it, live it, with you in it

(Chorus)
The doorbell could speak
Witness to my hearts echo
Time would be redeemed
Witness to memory stream

I always loved you
I give you proof when you want
The day never should end
Until the violets turn red

Out in Longwood Gardens
Perfume of flowers I missed
But I missed to see
Bee in her bonnet kissed
