

Barlow Girl, Sweet Revenge

Did you see that I was hurt?
Did you know that you had left me crying there?
Now I'm holding all your words close till I feel this pain too
But you live on so unaware
While I thought somehow this hate would heal me
But this hate is never ending and it's only killing me
Oh sweet revenge you've lied again

Chorus:

I find I can't get free till I release this vengeance that I seek Forgive you the only thing I want to live
I'm ready to be free, to be free
Maybe you've been wounded too
Maybe all this is your self protection
All the hurts you thought were hidden
Are the one now hurting me
So who will make the pattern end?

Chorus

Break these chains
Won't see this through
'Cause setting you free means my freedom too

Chorus

oh oh oh, oh oh oh
