

Barlow Girl, The Guy Song

Where would we be today if no man ever had strength to believe
If no man had a vision farther than their eyes could ever see
They are the one's who paved the way
To show you how you have been made for more
This is your day, don't let them take it away yeah yeah
This is your day, don't let them take it, take it
This is your day, don't let them get in your way
This is your day, so come on, take it, take your day
This world distracts you, lies to you, and hopes to keep you from your call
But don't be fooled, cause don't you see that you can stand up to it all You're unashamed, you're unafraid to
To give up your life to serve the One who's called you
This is your day, don't let them take it away yeah yeah
This is your day, don't let them take it, take it
This is your day, don't let them get in your way
This is your day, so come on, take it, take your day
