

Baroness, Last Word

Farther from oblivion
Closer to the end
Will I become the setting sun
Will I fall when I wake up?

I remember every last word
I remember it all
I remember every last word
I remember...

When I am wired to oblivion
I'm closer to the end
We all become the setting sun
We have nowhere left to run

I remember every last word
I remember it all
I remember every last word
I remember...

Oh, my sweet oblivion
We are drowning in paradise
I guess we'll need a deeper gutter
A higher levee
To slow this tide

I remember every last word
I remember it all
I remember every last word
I remember
Do you have any last words?
I remember it all
Do you have any last words?
Because I remember, I remember it all
