

Barry Manilow, I've Never Been So Low On Love

Well, I've never been so low on love
And I know I never hurt so bad
I never tried so hard
Just to see it fall apart
Just to lose the sweetest love I ever had
Well I've never been so low on love
And I know I'll never be the same
I know you meant to stay
So if I drove you away
Oh I know that I'm the only one to blame
They say that everyday should make me stronger
And one day I won't think of you at all
But everyday you're gone the days get longer
And all I do is wait for you to call
Well I've never been so low on love
And I know that as the years go by
I'll still be lovin' you
When I'm holdin' someone new
And when I think about the tears you made
Me cry
I know you never really cared enough
And I've never been so low on love
