

Barry Manilow, The Last Duet

You creep
Into my heart
And make my heart burn
You sneak
Into my mind
And make my head ache
There are things I long to tell you
You're much too blonde
You snore
Look
It's time to face the music
Bye, Bye!
Don't slam the door
And I don't want
I don't want
I don't want
I don't want

No, I don't want your flowers anymore
This is the last duet
Last chance you're gonna get
No more ha harmony
For you and me
This is the final song
And when the music's through
This is the last duet
I'll ever do with you
You're not the one that I want
Ooh, ooh ooh
Tood-le-oo (honey)
Don't go breakin' my back
Don't call me
I'll call you
Back together
Reunited
Should feel so good
They say
So I hope there's no hard feelings
Don't go 'way mad
Just go 'way
'cause

Enough
Is enough
Is enough
Is enough
Too much too little too late
Tonight
Tonight
With you I'm bored again!
This is the last duet
Last chance you're gonna get
No more ha harmony
For you and me
This is the final song
This is the last duet
I'll ever do with you
This is the last duet
Last chance you're gonna get
No more ha harmony
For you and me
This is the final song

This is the last duet
I'll ever do
I'll ever do
I'll never never never never do
With you
