

Barry Manilow, You Outta Be Home With Me

Everybody's here, spinnin' the bottle
Everybody dance, dance, dance
And you walk in, with your new friend
Well my friend, have I lost again?

'Cause I know pretty baby
You oughta be home with me
Yes I know pretty woman
You oughta be home with me

Well you can love the one you're with
But you can love the one
You oughta be with
And tonite pretty baby
You oughta be home with me

You've been lookin' at me tryin' to hide it
You smile so sweet

As you dance by with your new friend
Can't you see it's killin' me

'Cause I know pretty baby
You oughta be home with me
Yes I know pretty woman
You oughta be home with me

Well you can love the one you're with
But you can love the one
You oughta be with
And tonite pretty baby
You oughta be home with me

You oughta be home with me
You oughta be home with me
Oh my woman
