

Basia, Clear Horizon

look around - it's almost summer yet there's winter in her heart you could never love another still, can your fire melt her ice... can your fire melt her ice seasons change, you cry in silence for the love you cannot live without you've done your best, you tried your hardest the time has come, be strong, give it up all you need is a clear horizon, a clear horizon

all we wish is everyday, hope and pray,
for all of us a clear and quiet sky

the darkest night is slowly fading and the sun will come out to blind your eyes could it be a new beginning? trust yourself - you're an angel, you can fly trust yourself - you're an angel, you can all we need is a clear horizon...
