

Be Free, Remember

There will come at night, maybe in our dreams
Precious moment of passion
Though I'm here now, I always something missing
Why sweet words for you
So many exciting things had happen between us
To forget it all that's easy
Arise and look the sky, it's burning just like us
And remember that I'm

REF:

Love is shining us much as my desire
And it will take you just up the sky
Love is shining a life from that, from my heart
And it will only carry us to sky
Touch of your hands and few sounds
The taste couple of your lips
Dreams are asleep somewhere within us
Will not take the time
There will come at night, maybe in our dreams
Precious moment of passion
Arise and look the sky, it's burning just like us
And remember, and remember, and remember that I'm
