

Be Free, She is too far

I'm crying over this damned life,
Over the chances that went by.
Now I know what would have been,
Now I would have chosen sin.
Where is my heart today, where is my love?
Where is the one I'd be holding?
I must have lost my way, what have I done?
Why have I been so blind? Now I'm cold and..
REF: She is too far, she is too far
"Its too late for us", she said.
"I gave you my all, you know,
I'm the best thing that you've had.
Sorry now I have to go."
I see her walk away, closing the door,
Still have so much to say, (but) she won't listen.
She said "Take care my love" and nothing more.
She waved her hand at me saying this and..
REF: She is too far, she is too far
Now I'm here within these walls,
Sharing life with someone good.
(But) I'm still waiting for her call.
I'd turn back time if I could.
That day I saw her face after these years,
I felt the happiness and joy she brings and
I told her "I wish you were always here"
But then she smiled and I saw the ring and..
REF: She is too far, she is too far..
