

Be Free, Unite

It doesn't matter to me where you've come here from.
There is a miracle in the city, take my hand and off we go.
I like it when we're floating somewhere high above the roofs.
And above all our worries and so far from all this truth.

REF:

Unite with the music of your city.
Tonight there is so much going on.
Stay still and your hearts will beat together.
Stay till the break of dawn.
I like it when we're laughing and I like it when you sigh.
It's so strange to find what's in us, when we're so far and so high.
Everyday we're losing ourselves all the rush.
Why don't we just take it easy. Come and look me in the eyes.

REF:

Unite with the music of your city.
Tonight there is so much going on.
Stay still and your hearts will beat together.
Stay till the break of dawn.
Is there anybody, who believes in who I am ?
Though I know that you're beside me. I m not sure if it's your face.
And although I see us flying, spreading wings up in the air.
I am still not very certain, if it's us the two up there.

REF:

Unite with the music of your city.
Tonight there is so much going on.
Stay still and your hearts will beat together.
Stay till the break of dawn.
