

Beam, Never Let Go

In a world where night comes too fast
Where to find the future we look to the past
And broken dreams are the ones that last
He'll still be there
He will tell you the answers, when doubt comes around
He'll open your eyes, so what's lost can be found
He'll give you His hand, when your world crumbles down
And He'll never let you go
When injustice prevails and wrong's always right
When believers lose faith and fighters won't fight
And the prayers that you've prayed don't seem to find light
He'll
still be there
He will tell you the answers, when doubt comes around
He'll open your eyes, so what's lost can be found
He'll give you His hand, when your world crumbles down
And He'll never let you go
No He'll never let you go
No He'll never (ever)
Let go
