

Beatbeat Whisper, Don't Let It Pass You By

on a story told passing through the ancient doors, a quiet whisper winds its way from ear to ear and it flies forever. but if it all goes along this old path so walked, then stay a while or come and have a drink with me from far away the distant shapes celebrate the rain, in memories of misty golden braids, but be not afraid, stay awake, do it right, share in light, start tonight, don't ever let it pass you by tonight! tonight, tonight don't let it pass you by,

don't ever let it pass you by

mixed up meaning window for a shooting star it's there to see, all of the willing cards have all been dealt out now and passed around, but seven miles overpassed, just to see a man turn green, with a little take a lot or sit and drink with me

from far away the distant shapes celebrate the rain,
in memories of misty golden braids,
but be not afraid, stay awake, do it right, share in light, start tonight,
don't ever let it pass you by

(by David Nereo)