

Before The Dawn, Seed

(music: Tuomas Saukkonen, words: Tuomas Saukkonen/Panu Willman) lies, it all comes down on the guilty ones hides, their faceless looks it has begun dark, some dangerously oblivious mark, was in the eyes that grave to crush was there a reason for this all a brief moment in the past when all went wrong a memory to reveal one by one all the failures we have done in you in me bred the seed with all these fears in you in me bred the seed behind these tears was there some poison in the air disease without a cure infected as we inhale or was it all along like a thorn

inside when we were born