

Before You Breathe, Arms Raised

You are my joy
I have no other
I'm into You
So focused on you
What would happen if I lost my sight
Would You lead me and take me to the light
Where we will laugh, never cry again
Arms raised to You
You are my friend
There's not many others
There's no one like You
So honest and true
What would happen if I forget You
Would You remind me of all that we've been through
Like a dream that never ends
I see Your smile, I know I'll spend
Forever with You
