Behemoth, Ceremony Of Shiva

Avatars of powers from four worlds Bathed me in jewels of belief I drink the nectar of Goddess - my eternal mistress I am Shiva, Hadit or Beast himself And multitude of forms surpasses myself I kneel before Isis, I - her god and slave Coiled serpent lifts up his head and looks in my eyes Third power and third eye create The One

I am who I am not I negate and confirm I transgress - it is real!

Wheels of change turn with my breath I touch the red - hot firmament (of golden darkenings of heavens) And stars are falling down onto every side of world With my tongue I penetrate scarlet abysses of Kteis Overflowing my body with thrill and heart with warmth Suddenly I'm shooting forth venom 'Cause I, I became a snake who rounds her flesh Here and now, here and now
