

Bell Book and Candle, Catch you

I looked at you at once I knew
I have been waiting my whole life for you
So who am I, I can't deny
I'm longing for your touch
Inside I try
I do not care if people do their best to keep me off from you
But I
I should be glad
To see the back of you
But all I wanna do is catch you
Catch you
I'm gonna catch you
I won't let you go until I get you in my dreams tonight
I wanna take you, I want break you
I will catch you, now the time is right
One day, I swear I'll catch you there
You will be telling me your love to be my prisoner
I'd like to be your destiny
I gotta leave all behind us now or never Sometimes I tried I tried to hard
I'm longing for your love inside I try
No longer way, no longer fight
I'm hungry for your love tonight I'm catching
Catching you
I'm gonna catch you
I won't let you go until I get you in my dreams tonight
I wanna take you, I want break you
I will catch you, now the time is right
I'm gonna catch you
I won't let you go until I get you in my dreams tonight
I wanna take you, I want break you
I will catch you, now the time is right
