

Bella Morte, As Heaven Sang

Bella Morte
Remains
As Heaven Sang
As I slept
You whispered in my dreams
You said
That fate could never end our love
That there was no power stronger
On Heaven, Earth, or Hell

You gave to me your last soft breath
Now I pray for death
The rest of time without your touch
How I long for death

Then they came
To take you back to heaven's edge
Now soft your wings hang at your side
And the branches close around you
To hold you for all time

I held your heart
And you fell from heaven's grace
Held your gaze
But your eyes see nothing now
Felt your breath
But your voice is silent now
Death comes swift
But love never fades away
