

Beloved, Into Your Arms

Emotionless

Love stands still apart from all the rest
And you're the only one who hears my voice

Apologies

Were spoken underneath the harvest trees
While our dreams fell down like autumn leaves

Its getting hard
to pick myself up from the ground this time
And your willingness
Never seems to change my mind
And im falling
Into your arms again
Thinking that I should
Put my trust in him

Do you remember November 22?
I could see your breath
But your heart was vacant
Maybe this is what I need
Some uncertainty
But if I let it go
I would be risking everything

Theres no day like today
Theres no day like today
And your drifting far away
And its tearing me,
And its tearing me,
Its tearing me apart

(music)

Its getting hard
to pick myself up from the ground this time
And your willingness
And im falling
Into your arms again
Thinking that I should
Put my trust in him
