

Beloved (US), The Blue Period

It's slowly maintaining now
I tried to bring it back, but it's over somehow
The static is silent so i hear you're stable now
Tired of progress but only we can work it out
It's slowly maintaining now
Tried to bring it back, but it's over somehow
The reality is you were never real at all
Spinning in circles just another programmed thought
So we'll break off a piece of nothing And take on the world baby
And i'm finally letting go and i think that you should know
And i'm finally letting go, i think its better for us both
You and me, we're gonna beat this down to the ground
But let's run for now
