

Ben Christophers, It's Been a Beautiful Day

It's not the way the day draws in that I think this or the way stones sink lower than the clouds sending ripples through the air autumn leaves pave the park but you still remember the colours of summer green your sweetest heart
seems so unaffected by the things that kill

It's been
a beautiful day
even after the rain

You must be made of steel Jane
where's the peace in all that strength and wisdom going eternal life
maybe that's my liberation something to belong to

It's been a beautiful day
