Ben Harper, Faded

You so easily amuse Like a pantomime Such a silent crime You so easily abuse Lack of confindence It's your best offense You so easily confuse You can't deny it Still you try to hide it

Faded So faded Like a memory gone There's no recollection

Faded So faded Like a forgotten dream Further than it seems

You so hastily defy
When you think you need it
You find a way to bleed it
You so hastily deny
Pleading innocence
It's your best defense
You so hastily reply
The moment (that) you said it
Already regret it

Faded So faded Like a memory gone There's no recollection

Faded So faded Like a forgotten dream Further than it seems

You so easily amuse You so easily abuse

Faded So faded Like a memory gone There's no recollection

Faded So faded Like a forgotten dream Further than it seems

Faded So faded Like a memory gone There's no recollection
