

Ben Kenney, Walking

If I didn't have this anger I'd be everything your looking for I'll pretend it didn't kill me that my heart is laying on the floor
It doesn't take a lot to cut me down to size
It doesn't take that much to leave tears in these eyes
Back to the start and when did it all end
Back to the start and when will it all end
(Cause these feelings I can do without)
If your daddy didn't leave you would you still be so afraid of me
And when other people see you do they see the you you try to be
It doesn't take a lot to cut you down to size
It doesn't take that much to leave tears in your eyes
Back to the start and when did it all end
(Will you ever get it figured out)
Back to the start and when will it all end
(Cause these feelings I can do without)
Back to the start and when will this all end
(Maybe I can get this figured out)
Back to the start and when will this all end
(Cause these feelings I can do without)
If I didn't have this anger I'd be everything you're looking for
