

Ben Moody, The Way We Are

Why am I thinking of you today?
You should be millions of miles away by now
It's funny how it hurts me this way
It's not the words that you say
But that you believe them

Fucked up as I ever was
Make sure no one sees
Me on my knees
Clinging to my rage, just because
It's easier, to believe in
More than

These lies and secrets
Hopes and regrets
It's the way we are
No, I want to believe you
You'll only leave, too
Just the way we are
It's just the way we are

Getting good at saying goodbye
I feel a little less, each time they walk away
Don't even stop to wonder why
It's not the reason that stays
But that it's over
Leaving...

More lies and secrets
Hopes and regrets
It's just the way we are
No, I want to believe you
You'll only leave, too
Just the way we are
It's the the way we are

What am I reaching for?
You don't love me anymore
So just leave me here

With our lies and secrets
Hopes and regrets
It's just the way we are
No, I want to believe you
You'll only leave, too
Just the way we are
Yes, I want to believe you
I know you'll leave, too
Just the way we are
It's just the way we are
We are
